OVERVIEW

Now young riders can experience a higher level of performance and tackle technical off-road trails with more confidence and control. Built on a lightweight ALUXX SL aluminium frame with 120mm of Maestro rear suspension technology, complete with the latest trunnion mount, just like its big brother Trance, this little ripper is perfect for young riders between 145 and 165cm tall. It features a lower standover height and high volume 2.3-inch tyres (and clearance for up to 2.8-inch tyres). It comes with a 120mm suspension fork and performance components, making it a truly unique trail bike to elevate the experience for any young trail rider.

KEY PERFORMANCE FACTORS

Lightweight frame: ALUXX grade aluminium frame provides a lightweight, purpose built chassis for young trail riders.

Proven suspension platform: 120mm of Maestro rear suspension travel offers a high performance off-road ride quality that stands out from other youth trail bikes on the market.

Kid friendly features: Youth specific performance components help young riders improve their off-road skills.
